Nobody ever sees them formed. We usually come across them when we are working in the fields.

> Tim Brown, Farmer at Headbourne Worthy 1982 (Quoted in Circular Evidence)

Graham Hess, fictional Pennsylvania farmer, experienced the same phenomenon as Tim Brown, Englishman from Headbourne Worthy. Both of them discovered "crop circles" on their land.

Crop circles—those mysterious, often geometrically perfect pictograms—seemingly appear out of nowhere. What are they? What causes them? Are they real? Made by hoaxers?

The evidence may surprise you.
